

Keep Mining Strong.

Here's a message to Canberra

Dear Tad,

You might have heard about the Government's new 'Super Tax' on Australia's mining industry.

Half a million Australians rely on mining for their jobs and communities.

Their hard work creates Australia's biggest exports and pays Australia's biggest taxes - more than $80 billion over the past ten years.

Taxes from a strong mining industry have gone into our schools, hospitals and roads and kept our economy strong.

The growth of the mining industry has also boosted the retirement incomes of millions of Australians through direct shareholdings and superannuation.

However the new 'Super Tax' on mining puts this all at risk.

Watch the mining community's message to Canberra now:

Then you can use our website to take action.

It's not too late for the Government to get this right.

Many thanks,

The Keep Mining Strong team
